The Sun Products Corporation appoints Al Drewes Chief Financial Officer

Wilton, CT. January 10, 2012 -- The Sun Products Corporation today announced that Al Drewes will join the company as Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer, effective January 17th, 2012. Mr. Drewes will be responsible for all aspects of financial planning and accounting, tax, audit, treasury as well as IT, strategic planning, mergers and acquisitions for the Company.

“Al brings extensive global financial experience and a strong strategic focus that will help build our company and deliver results,” said Jeffrey Ansell, President and Chief Executive Officer of Sun Products. “With his broad commercial and financial expertise spanning more than 25 years, and a proven track record of leading new business development in the consumer products industry, we are delighted to add an executive of such accomplishment to our leadership team.”

In his most recent position as Senior Vice President and Chief Financial Officer at Pepsi Bottling Group Inc., a $13 billion Fortune 200 company, Mr. Drewes was responsible for the treasury, investor relations, tax, planning, accounting, and mergers and acquisitions functions. During his tenure, he drove shareholder value by leading financial strategy, guiding multiple acquisitions in the U.S. and abroad, and leading the successful sale of PBG to PepsiCo while also ensuring compliance with all regulatory requirements.

Commenting on his new position, Mr. Drewes said, “I am excited to be joining Sun Products. The Company has a strong portfolio of national and retailer brands which are well positioned for future success. I’m looking forward to leveraging my knowledge and experience to help lead the Company to outstanding results.”

Mr. Drewes started his career with PepsiCo in 1982 and held progressively more senior finance and operating leadership roles, including several financial and international executive positions. Mr. Drewes received his MBA in Finance at Columbia University Graduate School of Business and his Bachelor of Science, Electrical Engineering at University of Massachusetts.
